

POLI 7991 – Special Topics in Political Theory: REVOLUTION

Photo by Pierre Herman

instructor:

James Stoner
Political Science
poston@lsu.edu

When is political change so fundamental or so dramatic that it merits to be called “revolution”? When is revolution justified, and when not? What makes a revolution successful, and why do some attempts at revolution fail? What is the difference between revolution and reform?

Wednesdays, 8:30-11:20 am
Spring 2021
(in person/hybrid)