Today, we have announced that our North American Headquarters for Bioenergy with Carbon Capture and Storage (#BECCS) will be in Houston, Texas. us

This office will play a key role in accelerating clean energy and carbon removal investments across the U.S. and Canada. 🌿

Will Gardiner, our CEO, said: "With the growing global demand for high-quality carbon removals, Houston was a natural fit for our #BECCS headquarters as it is the energy capital of the world with a proven, highly skilled workforce that will be needed to lead the world's clean energy transition." 💬
