

E. J. Ourso College of Business
Flores MBA Program

LISTEN. LEARN. LEAD.

The Customer Is Not Always Right: Where Public Policy and the ‘Sharing’ Economy Collide

This presentation will highlight the role of Uber in the context of transportation, politics, and economics in New York City.

Nicole Gelinas

Searle Freedom Trust Fellow at the Manhattan Institute for Policy Research

Nicole Gelinas is the Searle Freedom Trust Fellow at the Manhattan Institute for Policy Research, a contributing editor of City Journal, and a columnist at the New York Post. She writes on urban economics and finance and is the author of After the Fall: Saving Capitalism from Wall Street – and Washington. Gelinas has published analysis and opinion pieces in the New York Times, Wall Street Journal, Los Angeles Times, and other publications. Before arriving at City Journal, she was a business journalist for Thomson Financial, where she covered the international syndicated-loan and private-debt markets. Gelinas holds a BA in English literature from Tulane University and is a CFA charterholder.

This is a joint presentation with the LSU Flores MBA Program and the Eric Voegelin Institute in the Department of Political Science at LSU.

November 9, 2015

5:00 p.m. – 6:00 p.m. | BEC Rotunda

This event is open to the public. RSVP at business.lsu.edu/rsvp.

Parking available in the LSU X109 lot directly across the street from the Business Education Complex.