

Columba Stewart, OSB

Saint John's University
Professor of Theology
Executive Director of the Hill Museum
& Manuscript Library

In his Phi Beta Kappa Visiting Scholar Lecture, Fr. Columba Stewart will describe his exciting and at times dangerous work to digitize important religious and historical manuscripts from around the world (Africa, the Middle East, South Asia) that are under threat of destruction or loss

“Threat and Response: Saving the World’s Manuscript Heritage from Imminent Danger”

Thursday, March 5th, 2020

5:00 – 6:00 p.m.

Design Building Auditorium

LSU campus

Sponsored by Phi Beta Kappa (Beta chapter of Louisiana), Department of History, Department of Philosophy and Religious Studies, LSU Libraries Special Collections, the Eric Voegelin Institute, and the Ogden Honors College.