

Announcing a continuing opportunity for LSU students:

READING GROUPS IN PHILOSOPHY, POLITICS, AND ECONOMICS

“Philosophy, Politics, and Economics” form a cluster of fields well-known from an Oxford degree with that name and increasingly popular in the United States. We are looking for student leaders to organize student-led reading groups on books that are central to the PPE tradition—we’ll supply the books (free of charge!), you agree to read and discuss. Reading groups culminate in our spring conference, April 13-14: “Is the Social Contract Broken?”

Attend our organizational meeting:

- Wednesday, January 24, 6:00 pm—Voegelin Reading Room, 216 Stubbs Hall [PIZZA PROVIDED]

or contact James Stoner, poston@lsu.edu / 225-578-2538 / 214 Stubbs

Books for Spring 2018 (tentative)

John Rawls, Justice as Fairness
 Robert Nozick, Anarchy, State, and Utopia
 John Tomasi, Free Market Fairness

Spring Lecture Series

John McNeill, Georgetown (2/9/18)
 John Tomasi, Brown (4/13/18)

Spring Conferences

“Sustainable Cities & Communities” (4/12-13/18)
 “Is the Social Contract Broken?” (4/13-14/18)

“The real community of man, in the midst of all the self-contradictory simulacra of community, is the community of those who seek the truth, of the potential knowers, that is, in principle, of all men to the extent they desire to know.”

—Allan Bloom

