

Announcing a special opportunity for LSU students:

READING GROUPS IN PHILOSOPHY, POLITICS, AND ECONOMICS

“Philosophy, Politics, and Economics” form a cluster of fields well-known from an Oxford degree with that name and increasingly popular in the United States. We are looking for student leaders to organize student-led reading groups on books that are central to the PPE tradition—we’ll supply the books (free of charge!), you agree to read and discuss.

Attend one of our two organizational meetings:

- Monday, October 24, 4:00 pm—Voegelin Reading Room, 216 Stubbs Hall
- Monday, October 24, 6:00 pm—West Laville Library or contact James Stoner, poston@lsu.edu / 225-578-2538 / 214 Stubbs

“The real community of man, in the midst of all the self-contradictory simulacra of community, is the community of those who seek the truth, of the potential knowers, that is, in principle, of all men to the extent they desire to know.”

—Allan Bloom
