Millennial

Norma Thompson

"Can You Learn More from a Person or from a Book?"

October 17, 2016, at 3:30 p.m. Grand Salon, French House Norma Thompson is Senior Lecturer in the Humanities and Associate Director of the Whitney Humanities Center at Yale University. Having received her PhD in the Committee on Social Thought at the University of Chicago, she is the author of several books, including Herodotus and the Origins of the Political Community: Arion's Leap, The Ship of State: Politics and Statecraft from Ancient Greece to Democratic America, and Unreasonable Doubt: Circumstantial Evidence and an Ordinary Murder in New Haven.

Upcoming:

Anthony Grafton, Princeton University, January 30, 2017 Michael Pakaluk, Catholic University, March 31, 2017

Sponsored by the Eric Voegelin Institute and the Roger Hadfield Ogden Honors College at LSU